CONSTRUCTING ROBUST PORTFOLIOS

09:15 RE-DEFINING STRATEGIC ASSET ALLOCATION & TOTAL PORTFOLIO RISK

The Margaret A. Cargill Philanthropies (MACP) recently revamped their approach to strategic asset allocation by adopting a total portfolio risk factor framework and increasing the total portfolio duration using derivatives. Additionally, MACP continues to explore the potential of incorporating regime-switching models and valuation-based signals in their approach to strategic asset allocation.

This case study will share insights from MACP's approach to strategic asset allocation. In addition, highlights from MACP's internally managed Risk Premia Portfolio will be shared.

Speakers: Michael Ruetz, Deputy Chief Investment Officer & Director, Risk Management and Asset Allocation;
Shawn Wischmeier, Chief Investment Officer,
